

UKCA Marking instead of CE for selling products in Great Britain

After the so-called BREXIT and the ending of transition phase by end of 2021 the marking with UKCA (United Kingdom Conformity Assessed) instead of CE marking is mandatory for products sold to Great Britain with beginning of 2022.

Basically, the contents of declaration of conformity for UK are similar as those for EU. But depending on applicable legislation these may vary.

Northern Ireland, as member of the UK, has special status. UKCA marking alone won't be accepted. Products there must be marked either CE or UK(NI) and must correspond to these standards.
